Dear Commodore Richard Keller:

On behalf of the members of Loch Lomond Yacht Club, I would like to welcome you and your members to cruise to our club in 2011.

The Loch Lomond Yacht Club in San Rafael is a destination for sailors and power-boaters. We are a small "pocket harbor" in a serene and beautiful area nestled between historic China Camp and Mt. Tamalpais. We have great events, fine dinners and we know how to have a good time.

Please visit our website – www.lochlomondyachtclub.com -- check the dinner menus, the navigation page and plan your visit. Arrive on Friday night and take advantage of our Happy Hour & Dinner (beers $2 to $3 & mixed drinks $3 to $4). Dinner is just $7 at our casual dining buffet. Saturday Events feature cocktails at 6 PM and a chef prepared meal for $16 to $18 at 7 PM. With enough requests, we will prepare a Sunday breakfast.

The dock in front of the club is 107 feet in length and the side docks offer 70 feet and 35 feet of space. There are 30 amp power posts and water is available. The marina has a fuel dock and can provide access to showers. There's plenty of parking for those arriving by car. Within walking distance from our dock is an excellent gourmet supermarket, deli and café called Andy's.

With great food, a well-stocked bar, fun-loving people and a beautiful setting any weekend can be a great one. So, visit the Loch Lomond Yacht Club on your Cruise-Out in 2011, display your PICYA burgee and the first night is free -- $20 per night afterward. Check the website then call me at 805 881-2529 or email me at: towardward@gmail.com to discuss details. I'll work hard to make your visit a memorable one.

With regards,

Terry Vick
